ANALYSIS

- A few weeks before quarterly numbers come out, Sanofi generally releases a short note in which it summarises the key elements of the past quarter to help analysts factor in the highest possible number of triggering events and guide them towards good numbers.
- In the last note of this kind released yesterday evening, we find notices that all together might negatively impact revenues and earnings and drive numbers down compared to where the consensus is currently. Here are the main ones: (i) the impact of the recall for Auviq in the US was expected to be EUR100m on net income but will be of the same magnitude on sales (negative number in Q4); (ii) the after-tax impact of the termination of Mannkind's agreement is expected to be EUR100m on net income (-1.5%); (iii) at Sanofi Pasteur, Pentacel is facing supply limitations in the US whereas no sales are expected to be reported in 2015 for DengVaxia (we had EUR20m); (iv) one positive is that Sanofi expects to report about the same level of capital gains as in Q4 2014 i.e. about EUR79m; (v) although it bought back 3.9m shares in Q4 2015, the average number of shares for the quarter was reduced by only 0.6m compared to Q3 and the total number for the year is above our estimates (1306,2m); (vi) lastly, Sanofi said previously that the currency impact on core EPS would be 6-8% if rates stayed at September levels. We expect the impact to be in the lower part of the range, especially considering changes to the Brazilian real.

VALUATION

- With the exception of Pentacel, the above-mentioned elements are one-off items and it is fair to include them in the comparison base for mid-term guidance.
- However, if core EPS comes in at around EUR5.55 in 2015, guidance for flat earnings over the coming three years might result in a reduced sequence of core EPS not only in 2015 but also in the subsequent years. In particular, our understanding is that flat earnings between 2015 and 2018 does not necessarily imply three equal years. From this perspective, 2016 CS numbers might be optimistic at EUR5.65. We are maintaining a NEUTRAL stance despite the recent plunge in price.

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements including a SWOT analysis, positive momentum, technical aspects and the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements including a SWOT analysis, positive momentum, technical aspects and the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
