We have downgraded our recommendation to Neutral from Buy, and reduced our DCF-derived Fair Value to EUR24 from EUR30. We have cut our adj. EPS ests. by 10% for 2015, 13% for 2017 and 15% for 2018 (-EUR4/share), reduced our medium-term adj. EBIT margin to 16% from 19% (-EUR3), and adjusted our WCR assumptions (+EUR1). Yesterday evening Axway reported FY15 results below our forecasts, with France affected in Q4 15 by longer-than-expected sales cycles in API and Operational Intelligence. The new 3-year plan targets strong sales growth but steady op. margins on a lfl basis, while Axway is still investing in its offering. We expect a negative share price reaction short-term.

ANALYSIS

- FY15 results below our estimates. For 2015, Axway reported sales up 8.8% (flat lfl) to EUR284.6m, licence sales down 7% lfl to EUR95.2m, operating profit up 12.1% to EUR44.5m or 15.6% of sales (+0.4ppt), EBIT down 12.5% to EUR27.4m after EUR10.5m non-recurring costs (essentially restructuring), and net profit up 4.5% to EUR27.9m. These results were below our forecasts (sales of EUR292.2m, operating profit of EUR48m or 16.4% of sales, EBIT of EUR32.4m), except for net profit (BG est.: EUR25.3m) thanks to a negative tax rate due to the activation of tax loss carry-forwards. Maintenance and Services were up 4.3% lfl and 0.1% lfl. In Q4 15, sales were down 4.1% (-8.6% lfl) to EUR83.7m, with licence sales down 20.7% lfl to EUR31.4m, maintenance up 2.6% lfl and services down 3% lfl. FY15 free cash flow was up 4.9% to EUR49.6m or 17.4% of sales.
- Q4 details: very tough comps and API/OI delays in France. On a lfl basis, Q4 sales were down 31.4% in France, up 12.9% in America, down 1.8% in the Rest of Europe, and up 33.4% in Asia Pacific. All the regions were in line with expectations, except France. In France, Axway had very tough comps in Q4, since in Q4 2014 the company signed several three-year generic licence renewals (>EUR1m each) for an est. EUR11m. In addition, several licence deals experienced longer-than-expected sales cycles in Operational Intelligence (Systar) - requires a lot of pre-sales activity - and APIs (Vordel) - tough competition with CA Technologies (Layer7). In America, Axway performed particularly well while signings in October were encouraging. In the Rest of Europe, the performance was soft in Q4 due to the UK, while in Ireland Axway benefited from a significant OEM order from a software vendor embedding Axway's API management software.
- New three-year plan: strong growth but stable margins. The arrival of new CEO Jean-Marc Lazzari in June 2015 was the starting point of a new strategy for Axway, based on the expansion of the traditional middleware offer (Managed File Transfer and B2B Integration) towards solutions that support digital transformation. In 2015, efforts were made to fine-tune sales and marketing organisation, streamline R&D, focus on North America and the API/OI offers, and speed up the positioning towards a digital ecosystem. For the next three years, Axway is targetting strong revenue growth and steady operating margins on a lfl basis (incl. Appcelerator acquired in January), while continuing to invest in the evolution of its offering. The medium-term plan will combine organic growth and the acquisition of technologies and installed bases.

VALUATION

- Axway's shares are trading at est. 9.3x 2016 and 8.0x 2017 EV/EBIT multiples.
- Net cash position on 31st December 2015 was EUR35.7m (net gearing: -11%).

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
