Q1 2016 outlook confirms bulk of investment, delaying earnings ramp

Fair Value EUR24 (+16%)

NEUTRAL

QIAGEN released full set of results consistent with preannounced FY2015 and outlook for 2016. As a reminder, 2015 numbers came short of estimates impacted by timing of milestones and weaker instrument sales from the molecular diagnostic division. Turning to 2016, FY guidance does not leave place for operational leverage and FX headwind should be slightly higher than previously communicated (300bp vs 200bp). Q1 2016 outlook confirms significant investments in H1, delaying to H2 2016 earnings ramp.

ANALYSIS

- FY2015 sales rose 3% CER (-5% reported) at USD1281.2m. As a reminder, the latter missed both guidance and consensus which were 4% CER growth and USD1291m respectively. It is worth mentioning that without US-HPV (-43%CER) which represented a 3pp headwinds to QIAGEN's CER sales growth, sales would have risen 6% CER. All divisions but the Molecular Diagnostic one contributed to the group's performance (Applied Testing +7%CER, Pharma +5%CER, Academia +5%CER). The MDx division has been negatively impacted by the US-HPV franchise all along 2016 (1%CER, 49% of sales) while Milestones from companion diagnostics as well as weaker instrument's sales further impacted the division's Q4 performance (see our comment here). 250 QIAsymphony have been placed and another 250 are expected to grow the installed base in 2016.
- Turning to 2016, major update come from FX headwinds now expected to be 300bp vs. 200bp previously. Hence, FY2016 are expected to grow 6% CER or 3% at actual rates while EPS are expected to be in the USD1.10-1.11 range at CER or USD1.07-1.08 at actual rates. Management mentioned that the negative contribution form the US-HPV division is expected to be marginal with ~3% of sales and a 1pp negative impact on sales growth (included in the guidance).
- As far as the first quarter is concerned, the outlook provided by QIAGEN confirms significant investments delaying to H2 2016 earning progressions. Sales are expected to rise 2% CER with EPS in the USD0.19-0.20 range at CER. 4pp FX headwinds should bring the group's growth to -2% and EPS in the USD0.18-0.19 range at actual rates vs USD0.23 as anticipated by the consensus. This confirms the thesis of front-end loaded investments to support QuantiFERON-TB sales (US and Europe), menu expansion alongside a slow constitution of a client base for GeneReader's, which is not expected to meaningfully contribute to sales in 2016.

VALUATION

- We would expect the share price to be under pressure today, reflecting adjustement in FX and delayed earnings ramp to H2.
- No changes to our estimates ahead of the conference call.

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a bei	recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.

- NEUTRAL Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
- SELL Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation.
