We reiterate our Sell rating, but raise our DCF-derived fair value to 600p from 575p on updates to our fx rate assumptions. Yesterday evening, Sage issued a trading update for the quarter ending 30th June 2016, announcing Q3 FY16 sales up 6% lfl, in line with company guidance for FY16. While recurring revenues continued to grow double-digit, driven by subscriptions up above 30%, SSRS (software and related services) continued to be penalised by the planned transition to subscriptions. We expect no significant share price reaction in the near term.

ANALYSIS

- Q3 FY16 lfl revenue growth in line with full-year guidance. Management reported Q3 FY16 (quarter ending 30th June 2016) sales up 6% lfl, or in line with company guidance for FY16 (at least +6% lfl). Year-to-date, total revenues are up 6.1% lfl. Recurring revenues were up 10.1% lfl year-to-date driven by subscriptions up 33.2% lfl, while Processing was in line with internal expectations - Payroll continuing to be stronger than Payments - and SSRS (Software/software-related services) dragged down by new upfront licence revenues down - reflecting the planned transition to subscription relationships. Geographically, Sage's performance was driven by continuous momentum in Europe and North America, supported by an improved performance from the International region. In addition, during the conference call, the CFO Steve Hare mentioned that Sage ERP X3 was still growing double-digit.
- No change in outlook; CFO watchful of sales cycles on new licence sales. Management is confident that the business remains on course to deliver FY16 guidance for revenues up at least 6% lfl and an organic operating margin of at least 27%. In addition, it considers Sage's business transformation remains on track and the management is focused on its execution in order to deliver "sustainable and high-quality growth". During the conference call, Steve Hare mentioned that Brexit has had no impact on the business so far, but he remains watchful on potentially longer sales cycles which could lead to deferred purchasing decisions, for instance in the mid-market on Sage ERP X3 licence sales. In case of a slowdown, he considers Sage has the ability to reallocate investment priorities accordingly. In the longer term, if Brexit materialises, Sage may benefit from regulatory changes in accounting and payroll rules for the UK and EU countries.
- Increased net debt due to fx. Sage had net debt of GBP442m on 30th June 2016, up GBP38m from GBP404m on 31st March 2016, and down GBP25m from the GBP467m reported on 30th June 2015. Such an increase in net debt on a quarterly basis is essentially due to fx movements (GBP and USD vs. EUR) at the end of Q3. We forecast a net debt position for 30th September 2016 of GBP137.4m (net gearing: 15%).

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
