Ahead of the Q2 sales release, we prefer to remain cautious given the challenging current environment in Europe (55% of sales) and we expect a further deterioration in sales momentum with a 5.5% organic sales decline in Q2 following -4% in Q1. We expect a 3% sales decline for FY 2016 vs +1% previously anticipated. Consequently, we are lowering our 2016-17 EBIT by 9%. Hence our new EUR53 FV (EUR60 previously). Sell recommendation reiterated.

- Given the likely deterioration in the environment in Europe as tourists are still lacking, we prefer to remain cautious for Q2 and expect a more significant sales decline in Q2 than in Q1. Indeed, we expect Q2 sales to fall 5.5% following -4.2% in Q1. While Wholesale sales should be flattish in Q2 after -7% in Q1 (early deliveries negative impact), Retail sales (63% of Group sales) momentum is set to deteriorate further following -1.4% in Q1, hence our 7.5% sales decline forecast with a worse trend in Western Europe and in the Americas. This therefore implies a fresh deterioration for same-store sales performance. After -12% in Q1, we expect -15% in Q2 with a lower positive impact from space as only two stores were opened during the quarter (a Tod's one in a T3 city in Mainland China and a new small Hogan), while four stores were opened in Q1.
- Furthermore, Leather Goods sales (15% of Group sales) were likely to have been under pressure again, with a worse trend than in Q1 (-12%) and we guess that the Q2 deterioration has affected the shoes activity as well (-2.8% in Q1). We therefore expect a 15% LG sales decrease and a 4% decline in footwear sales. It seems that for shoes, consumers were more focused on classic products (at a lower price) and less on more sophisticated ones (at a higher price). Concerning Leather goods, Tod's management wants to focus more on entry price items (around EUR1,000 for leather bag) and less on very high-end pieces. Following Alessandra Facchinetti's departure, the product offer will be less fashion oriented (no more fashion shows for instance).
- Following the deterioration in Q2 sales, H1 margin is expected narrow 250bp to 12.5%. Alessandra Facchinetti's departure should have a positive impact on costs but much more in 2017 (around EUR15m impact) than in 2016 (EUR7m and mainly in H2).
- Following our cautious view for Q2, we lower our 2016 and 2017 EBIT estimates by 9% (see table below). We expect a 3% organic sales decline in 2016 (+1% previously) of which -7% in Greater China and -2% in Europe. Consequently, EBIT is expected to fall by 11% in FY 2016, implying a new profitability erosion (-150bp to 12.8%). This means that between 2011 and 2016, Tod's margin should loose 900bp!

VALUATION

- Following our estimates adjustments, we have lowered our Fair Value from EUR60 to EUR53 and, unsurprisingly, we are reiterating our Sell recommendation on the stock which is trading at 12.2x on 2016 EV/EBIT (8% premium vs peers average not deserved). Despite the recent share price decline (-21% on 3m), we are maintaining a very cautious view as visibility remains too uncertain.

NEXT CATALYSTS

- H1 sales to be reported on 21st July (after market closure)

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
