Vietnam's brewers go up for sale (Sector report to follow)

As the privatisation of the Vietnamese state owned brewers gets going, Carlsberg seems to be in pool position to acquire Habeco and AB InBev might be keen to add Sabeco to its portfolio. Heineken already has a great position in the country given its focus on the premium segment with the Heineken and Tiger brands. Vietnam is 10% of the company's group operating profit.

ANALYSIS

- While some of the world's largest emerging economies including Russia, Brazil and China slow-down, Vietnam's economic growth of over 6 percent is making it among the fastest-growing markets in the world. As a result beer consumption has been growing over 11% p.a. over the past ten years and has reached 42 litres per capita. The continued growth in working-age population and urbanisation is likely to drive consumption further ahead.
- The government is about to sell market leader Sabeco (38% market share) and the number three Habeco (17% market share). For Sabeco (price tag of USD4bn), all main brewers have been putting forward their offer. Although we believe AB InBev will be very keen to get Sabeco, we would not underestimate the chances of Heineken. For Habeco (price tag USD1.1bn), the odds are in favour for Carlsberg which has a 17% share in the company and a right of first refusal. Although not a game changer, a win from Carlsberg on Habeco could potentially increase earnings and fair value by 5/6%.

VALUATION

- Given the increased likelihood for higher interest rates and tensions on the foreign exchange markets, we reset all brewer valuations using a beta of 1. As a result our fair value for AB InBev comes down by 9% to EUR109, for Heineken by 6% to EUR83 and for Molson Coors by 5% to USD107. For Carlsberg the decline is limited (0%) as the appreciation of the rouble compensates the increased beta. Yesterday we have already reviewed downwards by 6% our fair value for Royal Unibrew to DKK306. After the reset, Heineken (+17%) and AB InBev (+12%), have the highest upside and we keep them as Buy. We upgrade Carlsberg to Neutral from Sell and downgrade Molson Coors to Neutral from Buy.

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.

Distribution of stock ratings

BUY ratings 55,7%

NEUTRAL ratings 32,9%

SELL ratings 11,4%
