The situation has dramatically changed since last year for LafargeHolcim. Most of the integration woes (governance, disposals, restructuring...) seem to be behind us, while the outlook for various key countries is clearly better (India, Nigeria..). While key 2018 targets have been downgraded, mostly due to currencies and scope effects, the commitment to return cash to shareholders has been underpinned by a CHF2 dividend to be paid next year, a share buyback programme and a potential extra-dividend. This has not changed our view on the stock, whose performance will mostly depend on EM macro.

ANALYSIS

- New targets have been announced, including a negative impact from scope (linked to the divestment programme of CHF5bn for end-2017), negative currencies, as well as some one-off factors, but also some new synergies. Hence, the new CHF7bn EBITDA target in 2018 is penalised by a CHF0.7bn scope impact and by CHF460m in negative forex, partly compensated for by CHF200m in new synergies. 2018 FCF per share target is CHF5 vs CHF6, with the capex target unchanged (< CHF2bn). CHF0.6bn in negative one-off items have impacted the 2016-18 FCF targets (cumulative CHF7.5bn vs CHF10bn). The CHF1.1bn synergies target is now CH1.0bn but should be fully implemented in 2017 (vs 2018). Our 2018 EBITDA is 6% above guidance at CHF7.4bn, but with CHF200m still to deduct from scope. Otherwise, our estimate would stand 3% above 2018 EBITDA guidance.
- The plan to return excess cash to shareholders has not changed, with a CHF2 dividend to be paid next year (if approved), up to CHF1bn in share buybacks over the next two years and a possible extra-dividend. An average payout of 50% is targeted through the cycle. In any case, LafargeHolcim wants to keep its "solid" investment grade rating.
- Beyond guidance, management presented its various strategies in significant detail, especially its aim to strengthen the distribution strategy, through the development of retailers' partner networks (60% of LHN cement is sold in bags), innovation, cost discipline (SG&A to 7% of revenues by 2018 vs 9;4% in 2015, 21% alternative fuel by 2018 vs <15% in 2015) and pricing.
- LHN considers itself well placed to benefit from the Trump plan, with 21% in revenues generated in NAM (approx. 15% in the US, where LHN is #1 in cement) and some Canadian assets close to the border and in total 8mt of available capacity. We understand that around 20% of US activities is today exposed to infrastructure, the market being however mostly driven by new res. today.
- This CMD has not changed our view on the stock. We still believe LHN should benefit from improving economic trends in the EM. Any change in this macro scenario is a risk of course.

VALUATION

- CHF60 FV derived from the application of historical multiples to our 2018 estimates, disc. back.

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
