Feedback of the conference call on North America

Fair Value EUR115 (+18%)

BUY

Following the conference call on North America, we maintain our estimate for organic sales growth in the US (19% of the group's sales) in 2016/17 at +4%. The spirits market in the country is showing good momentum and the group is implementing strong measures to improve its performance, especially changes in the commercial model and the set up of New Brand Ventures which is an incubator for future growth stars.

ANALYSIS

- Dynamism of the US spirits market. Pernod Ricard indicated that the growth of the US spirits market has slightly decelerated recently, but remains very strong at +4% - close to its long term trend. Remember that part of the attractiveness of this market is explained by rising market share in beer (+200bps over 2010-15). Unsurprisingly, the best performing categories are cognac (+18.2% in the 52 weeks to November 5th according to Nielsen), tequila (+10.1%) and whiskey (+7.5%). In our spirits report dated November 23rd, we analyzed the link between the success of these products and the desire of the Millennials generation for authenticity. Pernod Ricard cited the overall market premiumisation which is driven by mix rather than prices. The standard (USD10-16) and the value (<USD10) segments are underperforming, respectively up 0.8% and down 1.8% in the 52 weeks to November 5th according to Nielsen. Innovations are of utmost importance but it should be noted that less than 5% of launches achieve meaningful growth within the first three years.
- No underperformance in 2016/17. Pernod Ricard has indicated that it expects to grow in line with the market in the US (19% of total sales) this year. This confirms our estimate which calls for +4%. In the medium term, the goal is to outperform. The main growth driver remains Jameson, accounting for 25% of group sales in the country and increasing 20.6% in the 12 weeks ending November 5th (Nielsen). The group has launched a number of innovations (Jameson Caskmate and Jameson Black Barrel) in order to expand its shelf presence, but it still refuses to launch any favours to protect the brand equity. Also on the rise were The Glenlivet (+7%), Malibu (+1.8%), Altos Tequila (+39.5%) and Martell Cognac (+18.1%). Absolut is showing signs of improvement, but remains in negative territory (-3.8%). Of note, the trend on Absolut Blue (without flavour) is better. The group has drastically reduced its number of SKUs from 17 to 11. It has also changed the packaging, decreased prices, launched a new marketing campaign (since May 2016) and developed the Absolut Elyx franchise (doubled in past year). The stabilization of the Absolut brand is a medium term objective. We think that Pernod Ricard considers Martell, the tequila Avion/Altos and Absolut Elyx as the next growth drivers when Jameson slows down. In July 2016, the group changed its commercial model, notably by reducing layers and expanding in-market resourcing by 50+employees. The marketing approach was also modified in order to put a greater emphasis on digital (>50% of media is digital) and enable more effective innovations. Finally, the group has set up New Brand Ventures in order to incubate future growth stars.

VALUATION

- We maintain our Buy recommendation and our Fair Value of EUR115.

Bryan Garnier stock rating system

For the purposes of this Report, the Bryan Garnier stock rating system is defined as follows:

Stock rating

BUY	Positive opinion for a stock where we expect a favourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential upside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
NEUTRAL	Opinion recommending not to trade in a stock short-term, neither as a BUYER or a SELLER, due to a specific set of factors. This view is intended to be temporary. It may reflect different situations, but in particular those where a fair value shows no significant potential or where an upcoming binary event constitutes a high-risk that is difficult to quantify. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
SELL	Negative opinion for a stock where we expect an unfavourable performance in absolute terms over a period of 6 months from the publication of a recommendation. This opinion is based not only on the FV (the potential downside based on valuation), but also takes into account a number of elements that could include a SWOT analysis, momentum, technical aspects or the sector backdrop. Every subsequent published update on the stock will feature an introduction outlining the key reasons behind the opinion.
